It will begin on November 11, Armistice Day, with the Rev. S. P. Allison as county director.

OFFICERS GET BOTH SUSPECTED NEGROES

GRAND JURY RETURNS TRUE BILL IN REMUS ROBBERY.

IMPLICATE WHITE MAN

Herschel Conklin Is Held for Investigation, But Released After Questioning.

The grand jury this afternoon returned a true bill indicting Clyde Finley and Roy Hinckle, both colored, charging them with burglary and larceny for the robbing of the Remus store Friday night.

Finley and Hinckle are the negroes arrested in St. Joseph at the request of Mayor F. P. Robinson and Ed Wallace, night policeman. These two officers were on their way to Central Police station to identify three negro suspects held by the St. Joseph police yesterday when they saw two negroes at Fourth and Edmond streets. Stopping their automobile, the Maryville officers gave chase and succeeded in overtaking Finley. The other man escaped, but was captured later in the day.

Finley is 24 years old and a former waiter at the Linville Hotel. Hinckle gave his home at Bedford. He also gave his name as Roy Burns and Roy Robinson.

At St. Joseph, Finley attempted to clear himself of the robbery by telling the officers that it was committed by Hinckle and a white man. From his description, the Maryville officers this morning arrested Herschel Conklin and held him for investigation. The latter, however, told the officers his whereabouts from early in the evening until after 3 o'clock the morning of the robbery. After his story had been substantiated, Conklin was released.

"LANDIS IS NOT GOING TO STOP US," SAYS BAMBINO

Slugger Will Continue To Play Exhibition Ball Until November 1

Elmira, N. Y., Oct. 17—"I am going to play exhibition baseball until November 1." Babe Ruth declared on his arrival here today.

"Judge Landis is not going to stop us."

This was the big slugger's defi to the czar of baseball, Judge Landis, who has ordered him not to play "barnstormng baseball."

"I am not in any fight to see who is the greatest man in baseball,' the Bambino said as he stepped off his Pullman and started for the park to play this afternoon.

"Meusel and Piercy, the two other Yanks who are with me, feel the same way about it.

"In barnstorming we give the people an opportunity to see the big players in action, people who did not have the opportunity of witnessing major league games.

"I do not see why we cannot barnstorm when other players who shared in the world series receipts are playing post-season games."

The Ruth stars met the Artic League team here this afternoon and expect to play at Jamestown tomorrow.

MUST APPLY NOW FOR REDUCED FARE

LEGION MEMBERS PLAN LARGE DELEGATION TO KANSAS CITY.

MAY GET SPECIAL TRAIN

Ex-Service Men to Haul Their Buddies to Convention Regardless of Strike.

Kansas City, Oct. 18.—The American Legion Convention will be held here October 31 to November 2, regardless of the railroad strike, the officials announced today, even if only three men are present. The Legionnaires at Denver, Okmulgee, Okla., and Rock Island, Ill., have wired their intention to run their own trains in the event of a strike.

National Commander John Emery was aroused over the action taken yesterday by the Legion officers in asking the railroad brotherhood to postpone the strike.

"The American Legion will see that the distinguished visitors, speakers and delegates are here for the convention," said Commander John Emery. "The American Legion doesn't have to get down on their knees and supplicate any organization in order to hold its convention."

All former service men who are planning to attend the national convention of the American Legion in Kansas City, October 31 and November 1 and 2, must notify John Mutz, of the local post before Friday of this week, in order to secure the reduced fare of one cent a mile offered to all members.

By recent ruling, the one cent fare will not apply to mothers and sisters of members, unless they may be classed as dependent members of their families. Identifications slips must be filled out before the reduced fare can be secured. Post commanders and post adjutants are held entirely responsible for these certificates, and they are not to be issued to any persons not members of the American Legion.

Those who are not members of the Legion may at this time take out application cards and transportation will be arranged at the one-cent rate. Membership cards will be on hand and all former service men, either in the army, navy of marine corps, may enroll in the local post for $3 a year and be entitled to the one cent rate to the convention.

Plans to carry members of the American Legion to the convention, regardless of whether the national railroad strike is called or not, are being made by the Legion heads. Dale Ellis of Creston is in communication with both railroad officials and railroad employees to arrange for a special train to be run direct from Creston to Kansas City, carrying the Legionnaries from this section. The members of the train crew will all be former service men.

For hotel reservations, men who plan to attend the convention should notify their post officers, who will send their names to the Hotels and Housing Committee of the Kansas City National Convention Committee.

The Legionnaries in the Middlewest, who served with the two famous middlewest divisions, the 35th and 89th have another incentive to come to Kansas City, October 31st, in the arrangement that has been made to hold their respectively Divisional Reunions. At the same time the individual regiments of each division, will also have their respective reunions. Practically every other combat division and unit will have reunions in Kansas City, in numerous Halls and club rooms that are being designated for these purposes.

In addition to the mammoth aerial program, other entertainments are, a Wild West Rodeo, which will equal, if not surpass the annual Cheyenne show, the Denver Junior College show, which has a cast of 400 Legionnaries and Denver girls, the ordnance show, a big football game (efforts are being made to secure the Army and Navy football game) and hundreds of other shows of greater or smaller proportions.

A registration system has been worked out so that legionnaries will be able to locate comrades of their old outfits within a few hours after their arrival in Kansas City.

Three big booths will be located in the lobbies of the Baltimore and Muehlebach Hotels and at convention Hall, 30 picked girls of Missouri's and Kansas' choice beauty crops will have charge of these booths and will receive the registration of all visiting legionnaries.

It is earnestly requested that every legionnaire registor at one of these booths, giving his name, his present address and his former outfit. It will be then carried to the two other booths and thus a rotating registration established, so that any one inquiring at any of these booths, will be able to locate them, immediately.

A solemn note will be injected in the official Legion program when Kansas City dedicates the site of the two million dollar memorial she is erecting in memory of her dead. Marshal Foch, General Pershing and General Diaz will officiate at these services, which will take place at eleven of the morning of the second day.

The parade will take place the afternoon of the same day. Assembling of the Legionnaire, planning on attending the Convention, will bring his old unform, to take part in the mighty parade. Estimates at the present writing indicate that more than fifty thousand Legionnaires and close to one hundred and fifty bands and drum corps will be in the line of march.

National headquarters will give a silver bar to all posts bringing their colors for the parade. This is a precedent established last year at Cleveland and the colors of all posts will be decorated with a silver service bar every year they are carried in the mighty Legion parade.

CABINET DEBATES STRIKE SITUATION

WILL ENFORCE RULINGS OF THE RAILWAY LABOR BOARD

BOTH SIDES MUST OBEY

Harding May Order Government Conciliators to Take Charge—Strike Has Four Stages

Washington, Oct. 18.—The railroad strike, in all its menacing possibilities, was put up to the Cabinet today by President Harding. As the basis of their deliberations, the President and his advisers had the conclusions reached here during the three days' session of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Public Group of the Railway Labor Board.

The seriousness of the existing quarrel, with the date for the strike less than two weeks off, may cause Harding to order government concilators to take charge, or it may be deemed advisable to create a separate board consisting of federal judges or other disinterested parties.

The brotherhoods have revised the list of roads to which the first of the series of proposed progressive walkouts would start so as to exclude the Pennsylvania lines, the Erie railroad and the Louisville & Nashville. This leaves no eastern roads to be affected by the first walkout.

The walkouts are scheduled to take place in four groups, one every forty-eight hours, starting at 6 a. m., standard time, October 30. Consequently, the East would not feel the strike until at least November 1. The San Diego & Arizona railroad, affiliated with the South Pacific system, was added to group 1.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The administration will seek to enforce all the decisions of the Railroad Labor Board as the first step toward the preventing of a nation-wide strike, it was officially announced from the White House this afternoon. The administration believes all the parties which have violated the decisions of the Board, both the employers and employees, must be called to account for their violations immediately.

Cleveland, Oct 18—The heads of the Biy Four railway Brotherhoods today were summoned to meet with the Railway Labor Board in Chicago Thursday afternoon.

There are no indications as to what proposals the government wage fixing body will lay before the union leaders, but it was considered certain that the result of the conference held in Washington between the public group of the labor board and the Interstate Commerce Commission would be laid before the leaders as a basis for a compromise of the present tense situation, with the hope that the strike order might be revoked. Whether the railway executives have been called into the conference is not known.

BUSINESS MEN TO RELAX BY PLAYING ONCE A WEEK

Will Take Exercise at College and High School Gymnasiums—Invited to Golf At Shenandoah

Maryville's business men will try athletic exercise again this fall and winter to get rid of that tired feeling, it was announced at the Chamber of Commerce Luncheon last night. All men who want to join the classes are asked to report to F. A. Bush at the Maryville Laundry.

The men will meet every Thursday night for a half hour of setting-up exercises, followed by the playing of handball volley ball volley tennis, basketball and other indoor games. The men will be divided into two groups, one of which will meet in the High School gymnasium and the other at the State Teachers College. Last year the activities were confined to the S. T. C. gym.

"We can't forget that in a large measure we owe our building to the business men of Maryville," said Supt. L. E. Ziegler, in offering the use of the High School gymnasium.

Another announcement along the line of athletics was made by Fred Wolfers, who told of an invitation to a day of golf extended by the golfers of Shenandoah. A party will be organized here which will leave on the second Wabash train Friday morning, arrive in time for nine hole golf in the morning, rest and have lunch at noon, then have nine holes more in the afternoon and be the guests of the Shenandoah men at dinner, returning on the evening train. The Shenandoah hosts will furnish golf balls and clubs, caddies and the necessary instructions.

Another speaker at the luncheon was the Rev. B. F. Cline, pastor of the Buchanan Street Methodist Church.

"I have been sent to Maryville by order of our own church and supposedly in the interests of the M. E Church, South, but I am in Maryville not in the interests of the M. E Church, South only," said Mr. Cline. "I am here as a citizen of Maryville, and will be anxious to learn of the interests that Maryville has at heart, making myself a part of those interests as far as I possibly can.

"I am not here to put my hands on anything, except as I may be able to push it along. I am anxious as a citizen of Maryville to forget that I am a preacher of anything and be a man among men. I feel that I can appreciate the big, broad mindedness and big fine fellowship of men.

"I am glad to know that the Chamber of Commerce of Maryville gives the church the place on its program that it does. I have never been in a place the size of Maryville that the newspapers give the churches the space that the Maryville papers do.

"I trust that we will get better acquainted as we go along, and I stand ready to help the Chamber of Commerce in any way that I may in the fine work that it does, because I believe in its work."

BOARD OF REGENTS ENGAGES ARCHITECT

RUDOLPH MEIER, ST. JOSEPH IS SUCCESSFUL APPLICANT

MAKE INSPECTION TRIP

President Lamkin and W. A. Blagg Will Accompany Architect to Look Over Other Dormitories

At a meeting in St. Joseph yesterday of the executive committee named by the Board of Regents, Rudolph Meier of St. Joseph was employed as the architect to prepare plans for the construction of the new dormitory at the State Teachers College, for which an appropriation of $200,000 was made at the last session of the legislature and released by Governor Hyde, effective January 1, 1922.

The Board of Regents, at its regular session here on October 11, instructed the committee, composed of W. A. Blagg, president of the board, C. L. Mosely of Stanberry and B. G. Voorhees of St. Joseph, to act with President Uel W. Lamkin in the immediate employment of an architect. Mr. Meier will immediately begin the preparation of plans for the dormitory and submit them to the board at the earliest possible date.

The architect and President Lamkin, together with J. R. Brink, superintendent of construction at the College, and possibly Mr. Blagg and Mr. Mosley, will go to Columbia next week to inspect dormitories recently completed at Stephens and Christian Colleges. They will also go to St. Charles to inspect the dormitories at Linwood College.

In the employment of an architect, the board decided, everything else being equal, to employ the services of some architect within the district nearest Maryville as a matter of economy and for other reasons.

Mr. Meier, the architect selected, comes well recommended as a competent architect and as a business man of strict integrity.

While they are making the trip to inspect the dormitories this week, President Lamkin and Mr. Blagg will take advantage of the opportunity to see the Maryville—Central Wesleyan football game at Warrenton.

Marriage is a partnership with the man the silent partner, remarked a Maryville bachelor.

Old bossy is becoming popular in Maryville again. Milk is recognized for its food value more and more and many people like to drink the fluid of their own milking.

Of course fat men have as much right to "trip the light fantastic" as the lean ones but why do they always pick up some poor frail girl to practice their foot work, wails Louise, the stenographer, as she limps to work.

"What are the wild waves saying," asked the poet. "The same thing as most people—nothing," remarked Fred Smith, the court house wag.

My idea of normalcy said an old timer yesterday, is a return to the days of the five cent loaf of bread, three cent milk, nickel cigars, jitney car rides and a foaming schooner for only five coppers.

Do you know that the Barlington railroad is the oldest line on earth? In fact, it is mentioned in the Bible. You remember of reading of the creeping and crawling things.

A Maryville man who sleeps with his mouth open, dozed in the barber chair the other day. "I can't shave you when you sleep," said the barber on waking him. "Why?" he asked. "Because I can't find your face when your mouth is opened," he replied.

Waitresses sometimes get queer tips. The other day a man gave a young woman in a Maryville restaurant a dime and a penny. She is wondering if the copper was for war tax.

The banana peel has a rival. Watermelon seeds dropped on the floor of a Maryville restaurant sent several people skidding this summer.

Now we know why Gus Romasser, the champion fisherman of the Court House can always land fish which weigh so much. Last week a neighbor borrowed his scales to weigh a new baby and the infant weighed 48 pounds.

Two Maryville youths of high school age were overheard talking last night. One said, "I got home late last night and caught a burglar." "You have nothing on me," replied his companion, "I got home late and caught the devil."

A Maryville man got a letter from his wife who with the children is spending a vcation down on the farm, saying little Willie fell out of the apple tree and broke a limb. Seems like a woman can never be explicit.

WILL PREACH ON PLACE OF WOMEN IN THE CHURCH

Evangelist to Answer Question in Question Box—Tells Why God Doesn't Kill the Devil

Dr. D. C. Kellems' sermon on "Why God Doesn't Kill the Devil" attracted a large audience at the First Christain Church last night. It was one of the strongest addresses yet given during the meeting.

"The man who wants God to kill the Devil doesn't want it half so bad as he thinks he does," declared the Evangelist. "Often times we hear some enemy of the church or some infidel remark, 'If God is good and loving as you say he is why does he permit the Devil to live, causing all the distress and misery in the world?' Let me tell you, the killing of the Devil tonight would be the worst calamity that could come to this world. In order to kill the Devil and the works of the Devil it would be necessary to kill every servant of the Devil and every one of his followers. If God actually should do that tonight in Maryville, I doubt if there would be enough left to bury the dead tomorrow."

Two main reasons were given by the Evangelist why God doesn't kill the Devil now. These were, first, God loves the sinner and wants him to be saved, and the other was that, the possibility of sin cannot be taken away.

"When you kill the Devil you must kill every sinner in this world and that isn't God's way of doing. God loves the sinner and he has commissioned the church to go and save the sinner. He wants man to have a chance to be saved and after giving him a chance then if he is lost it is his own fault.

"To destroy the Devil and remove sin from the world and to make impossible for man to sin would be to place man on the same standard as a machine. The possibility of sin must exist before responsibility for sin can exist. He has given man the right to choose which path he will take and he would cease to be a man if this right were taken away. God wants man to be responsible for the moral and spiritual condition of his soul.

"God's plan of destroying the Devil is first to destroy the works of the Devil and in the final settling up, the Devil and all his angels will be destroyed. If you convert a sinner and bring him out of sin into the church and Christ, you have destroyed the Devil so far as that man's life is concerned. If all the sinners in Maryville were converted, the Devil would be bound so far as Maryvill would be concerned. And if all the sinners in the world could be converted the works of the Devil would be destroyed and the only thing left would be for the Lord to destroy the Devil himself on that great day.

"Hell was not perpared for man but for the Devil and his angels. But if every man is determined to follow the Devil he will follow him into Hell. Jesus said, 'Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, "Depart from me ye cursed into the eternal fire which is prepared for the Devil and his angels."' I am not preaching literal burning fire in Hell as this expression is likely to be only a symbol, but if this is only a figure, let us remember that it cannot approximate in terribleness the real thing."

Dr. Kelelms has announced two special topics for the next two services. The one tonight will be in answer to a question left in the Question Box, "The Place of Women in the Church." The sermon tomorrow will be "Divine Healing." The purpose being to show what the Scriptures will be "Divine Healing." The purpose being to show what the Scriptures actually teach in reference to this subject. There will be baptismal services Wednesday night and the Baptistry will be ready for the baptism of any who may desire to use it any time. There were two more additions in the serivces last night.

M. U. PROFESSOR APPOINTED ON NATIONAL EDUCATION COMMITTE

Columbia, Mo., October 18—Charles H. Williams, director of the University of Missouri Extension Division, was recently appointed on the committee of foreign relations of the National Education Association. The work of this committee will be to invite teachers of England, France and other countries to form a world association of teachers and to make recommendations on this matter to the next meeting of the National Education Association, to be held some time in July of 1922 in Boston.

It is largely because of Mr. Williams' work as chairman of the committee which reorganized the Missouri State Teachers' Association two years ago that he received this appointment.

It is probable that Mr. Williams is the only Missourian that holds a position on any committee of the national association.

Five of every one hundred men in Europe are in the army, according to the British war secretary. The nations least able to support armies are those having the largest.

$500 PRIZE OFFERED FOUNDATION DESIGN

Noted American Artists to Commemorate Endowment of Woodrow Wilson Awards

New York, Oct 18—Distinguished American artists are now engaged in a limited competition to create a design to commemorate the occasion of the founding of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, according to an announcement today by Mrs. Charles L. Tiffany, a member of the Foundation executive committee, at 150 Nassau street.

The accepted design will become the emblem of the Foundation and it is the intention of the executive committee to strike off a number of reproductions in the form of certificates, to be presented to subscribers to the permanent endowment.

"The certificate will not be a form of receipt for gifts to the endowment," Mrs. Tiffany explained, "but a design commemorating the founding and marking the recipient as one of the founders. The central feature will be a portrait etching of Woodrow Wilson, and the competition has been limited to our ablest artists to assure a certificate which will be treasured for its artistic value as well as its historical significance."

The competition will close November 1 and at that time a jury of award of which Charles Dana Gibson is chairman, will award a prize of $500 to the successful artist. Reproductions of the design will be available January 16, 1922, at which time the Woodrow Wilson Foundation will open its public appeal for contributions.

The purpose of the undertaking is to raise a permanent endowment of one million dollars or more, the resultant income to be used to grant awards for "meritorious service to democracy, public welfare, liberal thought or peace through justice." Mrs. Tiffany said today that organization was well under way in forty states and that nation-wide organization would be completed in a very few weeks.

Eventually the Foundation will be placed under the jurisdiction of a board of trustees, composed of eminent Americans, for administration and the granting of awards comparable to the Nobel prizes.

G. O. P. DEFEATED ON TAX MEASURE

FORCED TO ACCEPT AMENDMENTS OFFERED BY DEMOCRATS.

IS IT 1912 OVER AGAIN?

Split Between Reactionary and Progressive Elements in Republican Party Grows Wider.

By Richard Linthicum
(Special Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 18.—The most decisive victory in behalf of constructive legislation yet won by the Democrats at this session of Congress was the surrender of the Old Guard reactionary members of the Senate Finance Committee to the Progressive Republicans in the matter of amendments to the Tax Revision bill, which, while they improved the bill, do not remedy many of its iniquities.

The amendments which the Old Guard leaders were compelled to accept in order to avoid a party split and a coalition of Democrats and Progressive Republicans were first presented in the Senate on Sept. 30 by Senator Simmons (Dem. N. C.), former chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. As stated by Senator Simmons they provided for an increase of the corporate income taxes with a range of 12½ to 25 per cent instead of a flat rate of 15 per cent; to retain the capital stock tax on corporations; to repeal the $2,000 exemption on corporate incomes; to confine individual exemptions of $2,000 on incomes below $20,000 and above $5,000; to restore the surtax to a maximum of 52 per cent and to repeal the transportation tax.

Following the announcement of Senator Simmons, which was in harmony with the attitude of Progressive Republicans, it was imminent that a coalition of these progressive elements would follow, and for the first time this session the Old Guard reactionaries took genuine alarm. A conference of Republican Progressives, at which Senator Lodge, was called in, held at the residence of Senator Capper, demanded in substance the acceptance of the amendments outlined by Senator Simmons, which increased the alarm of the reactionary leaders.

Then followed a conference of Senator Lodge and others with President Harding. President Harding's attitude on the amendments initiated by the Democrats and urged by the Progressive Republicans is well expressed in the Washington Herald (the Herbert Hoover paper), as follows:

"Senator Lodge, it would seem, was advised by Mr. Harding that what the White House wished was unity among the Republicans and an agreement. On the details of the program he was not so much concerned."

Finally, by a vote of 5 to 4, with the Democratic members excluded, the Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee adopted in substance the Democratic amendments.

This, in brief, is the history of the most important amendments yet made to the tax bill and the surrender of the Old Guard. It is evident, therefore, that any benefits to accrue to the average tax payer that will prevent, partly, at least, the corporations from shifting their burdens to his shoulders will be due first to the Democrats who formulated the amendments to the Tax bill and secondly to the Progressive Republicans who compelled their acceptance by the reactionary Republicans.

Tax Bill Politics.

That the Tax bill as amended by the Democrats and Progressive Republicans is not going to be satisfactory to the corporations, is made clear by the opinions expressed by some newspapers which usually speak for the corporate and predatory financial interests. Already the compromise is referred to as "Penrose's botch," and the Republican Congress is accused of "cowardice" in not adopting Senator Smoot's sales tax. They denounce the Republican Senate for having played politics with the tax bill.

Undoubtedly this latter charge is true and is due to a lack of definite policy and leadership beyond favoring the privileged classes and trying to hold together the discordant and antagonistic elements—more numerous than those in Hannibal's army—which supported the Republican party in the last election.

This is further confirmed by Mr. Harding's reported attitude on the tax amendment that he was not so much concerned about what was in the bill as he was that the factions in his party should hold together.

Judgeship Offer to Eliminate Kenyon Fails.

The Republican reactionary forces have not only played politics with the tax bill, but with nearly every proposed measure of legislation in which politics should be subordinated or eliminated altogether.

One of the most important political moves, however, was not with reference to any particular measure of legislation but was contained in an offer of a Federal judgeship to Senator William S. Kenyon of Iowa, who is not only the keystone of the Republican progressive arch. Under Senator Kenyon's leadership a coalition could readily be formed with the Democrats in behalf of progressive and constructive legislation which would utterly destroy the Harding reactionary program. This possibility is the one great fear of the reactionary Republicans. There would be less liklihood of the overflow of the reactionary program with Kenyon out of the Senate.

Another reason for wanting to get rid of Senator Kenyon is that it is a part of the Republican program to seat Senator Newberry of Michigan and to exonorate him by adopting the report of the majority of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, to which Senator Kenyon is opposed. As a preliminary to this move, Senator Kenyon without being consulted was removed from the Committee on Privileges and Elections and made chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor.

But the effort to muzzle Senator Kenyon by taking him off the Committee which passed on the Newberry case and the effort to remove him altogether from the Senate have resulted in failure, as Senator Kenyon has declined the judgeship and it is understood will take a leading part in the Newberry case when it reaches the floor as he did ten years ago in the unseating of Senator William Lorimer of Illinois.

Revival of the 1912 Situation.

Until the surrender of the Old Guard on the amendment to the Tax Revision bill the split between the reactionary and progressive elements in the Republican party was growing wider every day; in fact the situation was so alarming to the Reactionaries that the President's personal newspaper organ at Washington declared that the two factions were wider apart than they were in 1912. The surrender, therefore, is regarded as a mere opportanist's effort with only temporary effect, which cannot permanently unite two elements whose differences are regarded as fundamental and irreconcilable.

This view, it is predicted, will become more apparent when the so-called Railroad Funding bill, which is only a bill to loan the railroads another $500,000,000, is brought up.

To many experienced observers the present differences in the Republican party are plainly a revival of the old differences between the reactionary, predatory and special privileged classes of certain sections of the East and the progressive, liberal, agricultural sections of the West—in other words, the 1912 situation over agin.

So far, an absolute separation of the two elements has been averted through the surrender of the Old Guard reactionaries, as attested in this matter and some prior legislation affecting western interests, which gives rise to the question: How long can the Old Guard continue to surrender and retain its hold upon the reactionary, predatory and privileged classes upon whom it has always relied to gain and retain control of the Republican party?

TO ORGANIZE ALUMNI AND FORMER STUDENTS OF M. U.

Columbia, Mo., October 18—All former students of the University of Missouri living in this state are to be organized into permanent county units, making it possible for the University to keep in active touch with every person who has ever attended the University as soon as the plans of the new alumni recorder, Mr. R. L. Hill, are fully realized.

The plan as worked out by Mr. Hill is to select a former student from each division of the University in every county of the state. These representatives will be asked to meet at an early date in their respective counties and perfect a permanent organization. Officers will be elected and a campaign started to get every former student in the county into the organization.

Homecoming will be celebrated by the University the week of November 12, and it is planned to have a greater number of former students here this year than ever before. The attraction this year will be the Missouri-Oklahoma football game.

INDIANS TO APPEAL TO KING

The delegates from the Six Nations who are to make a personal appeal to King George in respect of their ancient rights represent one of the oldest and most famous confederacies in the world, certainly the most famous in the history of "savage" nations.

The Five Nations confederacy, the eastern branch of the Iroquois, goes back before the discovery by Columbus. It was strengthened in 1712 by the admission of the Tuscaroras from North Carolina, and consisted then of the Mohawks, Oneidas, Cayugas, Onondagas and Senecas, with the Tuscaroras.

The Treaty of Utrecht had declared the Five Nations to be British subjects, and in the long struggle between France and England in America the British government based its claim to large tracts of country sometimes on the ground of the so-called subjection of the Five Nations, sometimes on the ground of treaties made with them. By the middle of the Eighteenth century an orator of the Five Nations declared in conference: "We don't know what you Christians, English and French, intend. We are so hemmed in by you both that we have hardly a hunting place left. In a little while, if we find a bear in a tree, there will immediately appear an owner of the land to claim the property. We are so perplexed between you that we hardly know what to say or think."

WOO BY HAIR TONIC NO MORE

Young Men With Small Wages Find Girls Do Not Demand Aroma—Barbers Complain.

Hark to the plaint of the barbers, enjoins the Milwaukee Journal. Days when youths were wont to stroll in, seat themselves and murmur nonchalantly, "Give me everything," are now history. Modern Lochinvars have discovered that they can step about with the lady of their choice without surrounding themselves with the aroma of hair tonic.

Barbers complain that since the business depression began and wages have come down, the Beau Brummel of wartime prosperity who used to spend $2.50 every few days in improving his personal appearance is a thing of the past.

"In the days that are done the boys would order all the frills known to the tonsorial artist," said one barber. "Now they shave themselves and about once in six weeks get a plain haircut."

Another barber admitted that he is forced to use a high type of salesmanship to convince the customer that he needs a massage. The porter, counting his nickles when the day's business is over, laments when he recalls the times when "two-bits" was the usual tip. The manicurist admits men aren't susceptible to being vamped.

To Give Timber "a Shot."

The best method of applying preservatives to timber is by the pressure process which is used by practically all large commercial companies, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. By this means the oil or mineral salt is forced deeply into the tissues of the wood, thus giving a thoroughness and permanence not otherwise attainable. There are various processes, but all use large and expensive apparatus by which vacuums and heavy pressure may be applied in large treating cylinders, which are usually six feet or more in diameter and a hundred feet or more in length.

Much Timber Decay.

It is estimated that eight billion feet of untreated structural timbers decay every year, says the American Forestry Association of Washington. If that whole amount were to be treated we would actually save about four billion feet of lumber every year. That is to say, it would render unnecessary the annual deforestation of some four hundred thousand acres of land. There could be no truer or more effective forest conservation, and every home builder who, by the use of preservatives, lengthens the life of his house or barn, performs an effective service to the cause of forestry.

Leprosy in Indians Rare.

Dr. A. Da Matta writes in Brazil-Medico (Rio de Janeiro) that in his 26 years of practice in Amazonas province he has seen but two of the Indians with leprosy. In prehistoric pottery figures from Peru there is no representation of any deformity suggesting leprosy, although representations of other deformities are common and none of the early explorers mention leprosy among the natives.

Woman Rules Empire.

The actual ruler of the Assyrian E pire, which comprises the new nation of Mosul, is Lady Surma. She is the leading member of the Nestorian patriarch family, is a brilliant, highly cultured woman, and is governing her country, under a British protectorate, during the minority of her nephew, the Mar Simwen.

BOOTLEGGERS PROPOSE A NEW NATIONAL ANTHEM

The Bootleggers have now a national anthem. It was entered upon the Congressional records by Senator Stanley, one of the Southern senators. Mr. Stanley says the anthem is not one of his composition but was sent to him through the mails. Two stanzas of the song are as follows:

My country, tis of thee,
Land of the grape juice and tea,
Of thee I sing.
Land where we all have tried
To break the law and lied;
From every mountain side
The bootleggers spring.

My native country thee,
Land of homebrewerie,
Thy brew I love
I love thy booze that thrills
And thy illicit stills;
Thy moonshine runs in rills

WHEN JONES HIS TAXES PAYS.

By Rev. Marcus L. Gray.

When Jones his taxes pays
The last of this good year
The "mon" he'll have to raise
Will rob him of good cheer.

Deep down he'll have to dig,
Throw open wide his purse,
Dig up the bills so big
Look out, he'll cuss, he'll curse.

And this perhaps he'll say:
"My corn I sold for naught,
My wheat I gave away,
My mules they go unsought."

"My stuff is down and out,
My friends don't know my name,
But taxes are about
To burn me up in flame."

"Republican I was
I cannot say just why,
Unless it was because I wanted all blue sky."

"Th Democrats were bunk,
And this I thought quite true,
And so I went kerflunk
As sure as you are you."

"My name no more is Jones,
Republican I am not,
My soul's a stack of bones,
They all my money got."

Market Letter

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 17—Though cattle receipts were liberal they were not up to those of last Monday. Trade in the best killing and stock and feeding grades was active at fully steady prices. The plain and ordinary kinds were slightly lower. There was considerable urgency in the demand for hogs. Prices were up 15 to 25 cents. Lambs were weak to 25 cents lower.

Today's Receipts

Receipts today were 35,000 cattle, 6000 hogs, 16,000 sheep, compared with 37,600 cattle, 5500 hogs, and 16,000 sheep a week ago, and 29,000 cattle, 7000 hogs, and 5000 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle

No strictly prime full fed steers in any weight were offered. Good to choice steers were in active demand and fully steady and the best grades of grass cattle sold readily. The plainer classes moved slowly at the outset but later when a moderate decline was established they began to move more freely. Killers are making large purchases, and there is good buying on shipping orders, cows, heifers and calves were steady.

Stockers and Feeders

Demand for stockers and feeders continues active. The opening demand this week was for the better classes and plain and ordinary kinds sold slowly. Kansas is buying relatively fewer thin cattle than any other state. A good many buyers were here who wanted to get cattle in before any railroad tie up occurred.

Hogs

Active demand from both shippers and packers cleared the hog pens early at 15 to 25 cents higher prices. The top price, $8.30 was paid for both medium and strong weight grades. The bulk of the offerings brought $7.75 to $8.25. Pigs sold at $7.50 to $8.25.

Trade in horses and mules was active at unchanged prices. Inquiry is increasing. Quotations follow:

COWARDLY RETREAT SAYS WALL STREET

BIG BUSINESS FURIOUS AT DEFEAT BY DEMOCRATS

"GANG OF DEMAGOGUES"

Financial Journals Assail Agricultural Bloc, Which Made Old Guard Surrender

By WALLACE BASSFORD
(Special News Correspondent)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17—Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi was in a particularly happy vein when he discovered ?that Wall Street's great organs, the Journal of Commerce and the Wall Street Journal had, like the parrot, talked too much. He read to the Senate the opinions of these papers on the recent "Surrender" of the Old Guard Republicans to the so-called "Agricultural bloc," with his own comments. Among other things, he said:

"Do Senators know what the New York Journal of Commerce said about that meeting at the White House on the following morning? Here is what they said—and they knew; they were speaking by the card—

"'A new era in the relationship of the United States Government and the Nation's financial and business leaders is believed to have been inaugurated in the conference to which President Harding summoned several New York bankers on Wednesday night. These bankers returning yesterday from the meeting, which was participated in by representatives of the Cabinet, observed the customary reticence in discussing what had taken place. They did not, however, hesitate to show their gratification at the development.'

"The next day this same Journal of Commerce said:

"'One thing which Wall Street took extreme satisfaction in yesterday was the evident willingness of President Harding to learn. He admittedly is not an expert in financial affairs, but he is ready to accept advice and willing to be set right when he is wrong.'

"Those were the views entertained on Wall Street after that meeting; but yesterday a new light broke in that part of the great metropolis. How does the Wall Street crowd now feel since the old guard that promised them relief has surrendered without giving battle? Here is what they say. This is from the Wall Street Journal of yesterday. Oh, they have changed their views now. Let me read.

"'Compromise is justifiable when desired ends can be achieved in no other way and no principle is sacrificed. The House and Senate revenue bills were examples of compromise that accomplished at least an installment of tax amelioration. The pusillanimous surrender of Republican leaders is in no sense a compromise.'

"They were talking about you then—

"'It is a cowardly retreat—'

"Listen to it, may I ask the Senator from Indiana. I am afraid he did not catch that last expression—

"'The pusillanimous surrender of Republican leaders is in no sense a compromise.'

"This is from the Wall Street Journal. This is the organ controlled by the same interests that said, the day following the conference at the White House between Morgan and Sabin and President Harding, that a new day was dawning in America. So I read further, to the delight, I am sure, of my friend from Indiana, and I am glad the Senator from Utah (Mr. Smoot) is listening:

"'It is a cowardly retreat before a gang of demagogues, euphemistically called an agricultural bloc.'

"I am sorry that the leader of the majority party in the Chamber is not now in his seat, because he has gone over to the agricultural bloc. He has taken the reins from the Senator from Iowa (Mr. Kenyon) who led in this movement. Oh, how these progressives of old have been supplanted by the progressives of to-day! La Follette, who sat on the Finance Committee for weeks and fought by the side of the Democratic members of that Committee in the interest of the people to reduce taxes yes, he was in favor of retaining as a maximum a large surtax; but when this progressive element meets up at Senator Capper's house this former leader of progressivism is forgotten. This man who helped to make the fight in the committee is ostracized. The Senator from Idaho (Mr. Borah) and the Senator from far-away California (Mr. Johnson), who were once known in this country as real progressives, have been supplanted by the Senator from Minnesota (Mr. Kellogg) and the Senator from Colorado (Mr. Nicholson) and the Senator from Nevada (Mr. Oddie) and those others who formerly belonged to the reactionary group. That is the way the world runs; and my friend the Senator from Wisconsin (Mr. Lenroot) is now called a demagog, and the Senator from Kansas (Mr. Capper), who opened his doors and filled high the festive board to receive these distinguished new progressives and agriculturists from Boston and Chicago, is called in this article a demagogue.

"(It is a cowardly retreat before a gang of demagogues.'

"I do not know in which class this paper has placed my friend the distinguised Senator from Indiana (Mr. Watson), because he has been on both sides of the proposition, and I do not know whether he was charging or retreating; but, anyway, they say in one instance that he was pusillanimous, and in the other that he was a demagogue."

TWO HUNG JURIES IN LANGLEY CASE

Case of Langley's Companion, James H. Wilson, Is Being Tried This Afternoon.

At 3:45 o'clock this afternoon the jury in the case of state vs. Roy Langley on charge of transportation of liquor, reported that it had been unable to agree. It had been out more than two hours.

The jury in the case of State vs. Roy Langley, on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor, announced about 8:30 o'clock last night that it had been unable to agree and was discharged.

Langley was tried again today on a charge of transportation of liquor. The case was given to the jury just after noon. The testimony was substantially the same as that in the case yesterday.

Walter Davis, principal witness for the prosecution, told of seeing Langley, in company with James H. Wilson, making trips into a cornfield near his place under suspicious circumstances. He investigated and found two suitcases containing corn whiskey and a number of pint bottles.

The jury which failed to agree on a verdict was composed of Elihu Busby, Henry A. Thompson, W. W. Alexander, O. O. Gregory, Ben Tarpley, Ira Gillispie, Ben H. Twaddell, John Morehouse, Russ Peters, C. T. Frost, Earl Stephenson and William Taylor. The twelve men who heard the arguments on the charge of transportation of liquor today were George W. Alexander, R. B. Gex, Jr., Harry Lett, J. P. Merrigan, Elias Echterling, C. M. Warner, J. N. Alexander, William O'Grady, Clark Allen, R. J. Pettigrew, Hal Catterson and Ollie Keever.

The charges of sale of intoxicating liquor and manufacture of intoxicating liquor were dismissed.

Langley's companion, James H. Wilson, was being tried this afternoon on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor after three other charges of sale, manufacture and transportation had been dismissed because of faulty information.

The jury hearing this case is composed of Russell Bagby, D. Swinford, Ed Otis, Guy Henry, Paul Basford, Ed Costello, Everett Moore, R. G. Smith, Emery Aairy, Frank Barrock, J. F. Montgomery and Dick Strong.

In the case of Fannie Dowis Peterson vs. Ed Dowis on account, Judge John M. Dawson found for the defendant.

The following cases were continued by agreement:

State vs. Tom Montgomery, William Colwell, Frank Short, B. K. Hankins, Roy Sharp on charge of gaming.

State vs. Charley McDonald and Charley Carter, gaming.

State vs. Charley Finnell, Chick Ware, and Jack Pitts, gaming.

State vs. Clareace McCollum, Twister South and Bert Garnett, gaming.

In re the Mill Creek Drainage district, the petitioners filed plan for reclamation and petition for appointment of commissioners.

A well known Central Missouri attorney brings a good story to the Capital, anent the wisdom of an applicant for citizenship papers, appearing before Judge Samuel Davis of Marshall.

The Judge was making inquiries as to the applicant's knowledge of subjects in general with a view to determining whether first papers should be granted. In the course of the examination, the Judge asked:

"Who is the Governor of Missouri?"

The applicant studied a minute and then answered:

"I don't know the fellow's name, but everybody's cussin' him."

Judge Davis subsequently granted the application.—Mo. State Journal.

ROAD BUILDING IN MISSOURI IS PROGRESSIVE

Columbia, Mo., October 17—Prof. H. A. LaRue of the University of Missouri School of Engineering, testing engineer of the State Highway Department, has recently been inspecting the concrete road building in Buchanan County and in the northwest part of the state. Twenty miles of road from St. Joseph to Atchison, and sixteen miles from St. Joseph to Faucett are being built. The road to Faucett lacks only a few miles of being completed, while the road to Atchison is half finished. Both of these roads are part of the state highway system and will be of first class construction.

Professor La Rue has charge of the inspection of all marterial used. All sand, stone and cement used in this construction must pass certain specifications. Samples of these materials are tested in the labratory of the School of Engineering of the University of Missouri before they are used.

The northwestern corner of the state is one of the most active in road building, and can boast of many miles of concrete roads. The Mississippi Bottoms district has considerable milage of gravel roads in addition to the concrete roads that are being built. Roads of high class construction are also being built from the western border of St. Louis County to St. Louis.

The roads under construction are built of brick, Portland cement concrete, and bitulitis composition. Practically all of these roads are federal aid projects whereby the federal government pays one-half of the cost of construction.
